CIFellows 2020-2021

Computing Innovation Fellows

Co-Designing Child-Centered AI

Layne Jackson Hubbard, University of California Irvine
AI policymakers are working to ethically guide the development of AI for children.

Let's create methods for meaningfully engaging children in the design of AI policy.

unicef
WORLD ECONOMIC FORUM

Policy guidance on AI for children
2.0 | NOVEMBER 2021

WORLD ECONOMIC FORUM
Artificial Intelligence for Children
TOOLKIT
MARCH 2022

Brainstorming using "funds of knowledge" to explore AI scenarios

Co-designing AI for children by creating & refining using AI policy guidance

Storytelling with guided Q&A to expand AI designs into everyday contexts

Qualitative data analysis and workshops with policymakers to iterate on AI policy tools

New methods for engaging children and integrating their insights into policy!